Krishnan, Chief Golf coach at AKDR Golf Village

By M.Rajini

Golf is a game of the Elite society. Mr Krishnan, the Chief coach at the AKDR Golf Village, and a member of the Indian Golf Club, spoke to Adyar Times about how the game is played and the health benefits for the golfer. We really perceive the game as a lazy but friendly walk between 'holes'. There is so much more to it, says the Coach.

A simple synopsis of the game sir.

Every Golf course has 18 holes. The place you start the game is called a 'T Box'. There is an area called 'Green' near the first hole. One has to reach the Green from the T Box and pocket the ball in the First hole. How many shots you take to pocket the ball will show your mastery of the game. There is something called Par. A course will have 3,4,5 Pars and the distance between holes varies. An 18-hole course will have four 3 Pars, five 5 Pars and nine 4 Pars. A score card where the distance between the holes is mentioned, is given to the player. Only four people can play at a time, in a course. It is the same rule all over the world. The total distance you walk to finish a game is almost 6 km. Take a guess at the good it does to the player.

Are there any other health benefits?

This game trains your mind to be alert. The peculiarity of the game is that there is no opponent. Your ball is your opponent and you play to excel yourself. How well you perform is your score. Always challenging yourself and working out strategies to get the ball where you want it to be, is so absorbing that players are totally in focus of the problem ahead. It takes almost 4 hours to finish a round of golf.

Krishnan also adds that a good golfer can be judged by how they adopt a proper stance to hit the ball, how they grip, and how they take the swing. You have to gauge the spot you place the ball before taking a swing. Each golf kit has 13 clubs and they are heavy; It needs a caddy to carry the kit. The golfer has to pick the right-sized club to manoeuvre the ball. One has to deliberate on the loft of the blade to be chosen, and that depends on the strategy or the shot you are planning.

"We need to have obstacles in this game. There needs to be trees. Bunkers, sand pits, and pits filled with water make the shots more tricky. Such water hazards are created to make the game interesting. Sometimes a golfer has to swing above a tree to reach a hole. So much brain work and concentration is involved. That is great brain work," he assures.

You said that a lot of Koreans come for practice here...

Yes. AKDR is a place to learn and hone your skills through practice. There is institutional membership given to corporates, and employees of Korean companies come here. Anyone who needs to practise can book the Bays and hire the Ball. All over the world, the number of golf players has increased. But sadly, in India, there are not many takers because it is an expensive pursuit. Membership is expensive. The set you need costs somewhere between 70,000 to 3 lakhs. In Chennai, Tournaments are played at the Cosmopolitan Club.

Many business deals are finalised over a game of golf. The walk between the holes gives you time to talk with your companion. The open-air is very conducive to good camaraderie between partners. The golf course is a good place to form friendships.

True Sir. But a layman's knowledge of the game is limited to what one watches in movies. Two people have an endless conversation either planning a murder or some other nefarious activity, walking all over lush green plains. But, as you say, it is surprising to learn how the game helps the player be fit in mind and body.

He laughs heartily at my reference to movies.

Krishnan has been a trainer for more than 20 years. "I have played several other games - tennis, cricket, snooker, squash etc., but nothing has gripped my attention as golf does. Golf is the only game where the Ball is stationary and it is your hands that drive it to the destination you want. It has no mind of its own. You design its trajectory. That is so satisfying to your soul," explains Krishnan.

83-year-old presented role model award

Padma Rajan, a longtime resident of Adyar was conferred the PRTF Role Model Award in association with Ladies Special, a Tamil monthly magazine, at a function to celebrate the 11th Anniversary of Prabha Rajan Talent Foundation (PRTF). The 83-year-old was chosen for the award for proving that age is no barrier to pursuing one's passion.

After her husband passed away, 25 years ago, she reinvented herself as an independent thinker and spiritual seeker. She learnt the Narayaneeyam, Srimad Bhagavatham, the Bhagavadgita, and many such scriptures from different people, and has subsequently been teaching them to many others in her unique style. Her Navaratri golu themes are unique. Friends and family look forward to the elaborate and intricate arrangements and listen to her narrations.

The award was presented to Padma Rajan by the chief guest, Dr.S.Murugusundaram, an accomplished writer in Tamil and a well-known skin specialist. He also released the 200th book of the Kuvikam Padhippakam containing the prize-winning short stories selected from the entries received for the short story competition conducted by Kuvikam. PRTF sponsored the prizes.

PRTF was started in memory of Prabha Rajan, who was an accomplished writer in Tamil. She was also a very active member of the Mangayarkarasi Mahalir Mandram in Sastri Nagar and a Past President of the Inner Wheel Club of Madras South. In the last 11 years, PRTF has held essays, short stories, novella contests, and many other ideas in association with Kalaimagal, Mangayar Malar, Ladies Special, and Amudhasurabhi magazines. For more details about PRTF, readers can connect with rvrajan42@gmail.com.

Renaissance of dance by Rukmini

By V. R. Devika

Rukmini Devi Arundale was born on 29th February 1904. Year 2024 being a leap year, this date becomes special. Adyar was the place where a renaissance of art took place. Here is an incident to highlight her dance journey.

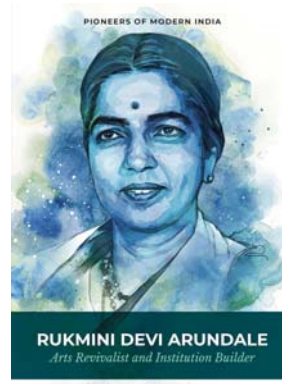

Ananda Natana Prakasam Chithsabesham, a Keerthanam on Shiva Nataraja, was included in Rukmini Devi's repertoire for her very first performance at the Theosophical Society. The performance received such a warm response that an idea to start an international academy of arts (later named Kalakshetra) took root that night. Rukmini Devi wanted to dedicate her art to the God of dance Nataraja and requested V.S.Srinivasa Sastri, the then Vice Chancellor of Annamalai University, to help organise a visit to the Nataraja temple at Chidambaram.

Rukmini's group of 10 went to the temple quietly. When they reached the temple, Srinivasa Shastry came out running telling them not to go in as there was a huge crowd inside and that they may get mobbed. Rukmini Devi decided to go anyway and when they went into the temple, there was a frightful crush. Rukmini Devi somehow got to the front of the sanctum and shouted to her musicians above the crowd to start singing and playing wherever they were standing.

She just danced the Alaripu as her offering and even as she danced, moved backwards and managed to get out of the temple. She said later that it was a great spiritual experience for her.

Rukmini Devi looked at her art as a dedication to the God of Dance. As a reminder of this dedication, a Nataraja icon became an essential element on the left side of the stage opposite the musicians who sat to the right of the dancer. This aesthetic and personal choice of stage design became a trend, still imitated by most dancers.

V.R.Devika is a resident of Sastri Nagar. She is a Gandhian and the author of 'Rukmini Devi Arundale: Arts Revivalist and Institution Builder', published by Niyogi Books as part of the Pioneers of Modern India series. The book is available on Amazon for Rs.221.

Centenary celebrations of distinguished professors

Alagappa College of Technology (Textile Department), Guindy, celebrated the centenary celebrations of two professors - Dr S.Krishnamurthy and Prof. R.A.Quraishi who belonged to the first batch of B.Sc.Tech from the same college and later were teaching faculty in the department.

Dr S.Krishnamurthy was the longest serving HOD, while Prof. R.A.Quraishi was the leader in the Spinning Department and was instrumental in heading the Textile Department, at the Central Polytechnic at Taramani, in the initial stages when it was started.

Both professors not only set high standards in teaching subjects in textiles but also received recognition in the textile industry for their contribution. They guided the students in their career and welfare. Dr S.Krishnamurthy also served as the warden of the AC Tech., hostel.

The function was held in Coimbatore. The chief guest Sanjay Jayawardhanavelu - Chairman and Managing Director of Lakshmi Machine Works, Coimbatore released the well-compiled Coffee Table Book and it was received by the AC Tech Textile Alumni Association President M.Veluswamy.

The function was well attended by the family members of Dr S.Krishnamurthy, Prof. R.A.Quraishi and alumni members.

The Textile Alumni Association is planning monthly guest lectures at the AC Tech campus to extend the Centenary celebrations to 12 months and also endowment lectures to honour both professors.

Kids learn science concepts

The Curious Kidzee'ans Science exhibition took place on Feb.17 at Kidzee Kannappa Nagar branch and Kidzee Valmiki Nagar branch, respectively. The event at the Valmiki Nagar branch was inaugurated by Vasantha Bala, Principal and founder of DAV Gill Nagar and Principal DAV Gopalapuram. At the Kidzee Kannappa Nagar branch, Mr Arjun, an AI education provider from MERITUS inaugurated the science exhibition. The Meritus AI education providers conducted a workshop introducing kindergarten kids to STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) fields at an early age.

The youngest participants from the playgroup focused on 'Exploring Nature' through fruit and vegetable carving. Nursery students focused on 'Wheels of Wonder', showcasing ancient and modern modes of transport. Junior KG children presented models on 'Nature's Symphony and Space Ballet', highlighting the importance of various seasons and festivals, as well as creating models of planets, satellites, and space shuttles respectively. Senior KG students engaged in DIY activities and experiments, such as volcanic eruptions and exploring solubility, magnetism, air pressure and water purification.

Parents were delighted to witness such wonderful displays. They also thanked for the opportunity given to engage and spend quality time with their children, participating together in hands-on activities for various projects. The playschool can be contacted at 98843 00080, 98842 00080.

Surana School celebrates World Pulses Day

Surana High Tech International School celebrated World Pulses Day to emphasise the importance of pulses in promoting healthy diets and sustainable agriculture. Pulses, including beans, lentils, and chickpeas, are nutritious, versatile, and environmentally friendly.

The guest speaker Aarthi Panjabi, a nutritionist, emphasised the health benefits of pulses, especially for growing children, stressing its importance in a balanced diet. She spoke about creative ways to incorporate them into meals, from soups, salads and dals to simple and humble yet nutritious khichdi. Her Khichdi recipe was a great hit with everyone. For an immersive experience, the school also encouraged the students to bring snacks with pulses as the main ingredient.

Students embraced their roles as inquisitive learners and participated in the session asking meaningful questions. They embodied their open-minded learner profile when they came forward to savour the pulse platter and relished the dishes.

The Kindergarten students had fun uncovering the hidden pulses in playdough, sorting and naming them. This hands-on task not only deepened their understanding of the different forms, colours and textures of pulses but also fostered collaboration as they worked in groups to dig out the hidden edible gems of our diet.

Annual prize distribution ceremony at KV IIT

The annual prize distribution ceremony was held on Feb.16 At KV IIT. Prof. Prathap Haridoss - Chairman of Vidyalaya Management Committee and Dean (Academics) (IITM) was the chief guest.

The programme started with a short cultural display, which included a dance and a mime on road safety. R.N.Sendhil Kumar - Principal of KV IIT, welcomed the gathering and encouraged the students to allocate 20 to 30 minutes every day to nurture their talents.

During this academic year, 14 competitions were held, which included individual and group participation, in 2 different categories – juniors, seniors and secondary students. Students enthusiastically participated in various competitions like debate, essay writing, solo singing, group song, Sanskrit shloka recital, rangoli, doll display, wealth out of waste, poster making, greeting card making, Rakhi making and group dance. Prizes for sports events and competitions held on account of Hindi Pakhwada and Bharatiya Bhasha Utsav were also distributed.

The chief guest distributed certificates and prizes to more than 350 students and rolling trophies to Velu Nachiyar House (Overall Winner in Cultural competitions) and Marudhayagam House (Runners-up). Prof. Prathap Haridoss, in his address, congratulated all the prize winners, acknowledged the efforts taken by the parents and teachers, and appreciated all the participants for their enthusiastic participation. The chief guest insisted that students should realize their interests and derive joy in pursuing their passion outside the formal process.

Broken pavement at Elliot's Beach

I am a regular walker in Elliotts Beach. The condition of the Elliotts Beach pavement and the adjoining seating platform is worsening and will collapse anytime soon. Request the authorities to look into it.

- V. Srinivasan,

Burning Garden Waste irks residents

We appealed through Adyar Times, edition dated 24 Dec 2023, to the corporation, police and other appropriate authorities for putting an end to the large quantities of garden waste being burnt in an adjoining temple. The temple, situated on 1st Street of RBI Colony, Besant Nagar, under the pretext of taking care of the temple, burns the garden waste, despite objections from the residents.

We had also submitted a written complaint to the authorities, but so far nothing appears to have moved and the burning continues merrily even till Feb.21 at 8.45 pm. Meanwhile, we residents in the buildings continue to suffer from the heat, smoke and the pungent irritating stench lasting for 2 to 3 hours.

We once again appeal to the aforesaid authorities to curb the persons from indulging in such unhealthy dangerous and unlawful activities and if necessary take action against them. The garden wastes and other garbage seem to be deliberately accumulated inside the temple complex for burning, instead of disposing of the same through a corporation-appointed agency.

Consider revising EB tariff

The government revised the EB tariff for common services in multi-storeyed flats in Sep 2022. After several representations, the government relaxed this tariff for the flats having up to 10 units. After this relaxation, several apartment owners have appealed to extend this relaxation to all multi-storeyed flats that are using power supply only for operating water pumps and common lights, and do not have lifts, swimming pools etc.

Now Addl Sessions Judge, Haryana Court has declared, "As clarified by the Regulatory Commission the lifts, fire fighting equipment and water supply pumps are domestic use of supply on multi-storied residential buildings and these loads cannot be considered for commercial or industrial loads (published in Times of India New Delhi/Gurgaon edition on February 20). In our apartment, the common power supply is used only for pumping water, and common lights. We do not have a lift or other facilities. Thus we appeal to the government again to consider the relaxation of the tariff based on the afore-mentioned Haryana Court ruling.

- A. P. Subramanian, Subham Apartments Association, Thiruvamiyur.

Change of ration cards

Many pensioners while in service might have taken the N / Sugar ration cards. After retirement, some pensioners might have applied for the change of N cards to sugar / rice ration cards. I am a pensioner and applied in Nov 1996, after my retirement, for rice / sugar card in lieu of the 'N' ration card, since my purchasing capacity of rationalised commodities from the open market has gone below the level of my income (pension). Ever since, for the past 25 years, I have tried my level best to change my card to rice / sugar card but all my efforts failed. I have tried through the e-center also, but no result. Like me, thousands of pensioners might have applied for the change. Came to know from some of my fellow friends that they too have failed to change the cards.

I request the Government of Tamilnadu, on behalf of N Card holders (pensioners), to kindly consider our request to change the N card to rice / sugar card. The government can also call for options from all N card holders who might have applied for change like me.

- A. P. Subramanian, Thiruvamiyur.

ALERT Being Awards to rat-hole miners

Apropos the report in your esteemed newspaper dated Feb.18. It is heartening to note that the bravehearts have been bestowed this honour. It is even more gratifying that they were felicitated on the same stage at the same venue as Ratan Tata, the GOAT.

Thank you for giving prominence to the report and making available the space. It is hoped and expected that other private organisations / enterprises and central and state government departments will also duly recognise their valiant efforts to save the lives of 41 workers, at grave risk to their own, when experts and capable, competent people could not extract them despite their best and prolonged efforts.

It was no mean achievement and the selfless, courageous miners should be suitably compensated, and be given the facilities and adequate remuneration for their outstanding work.

Incidentally, this type of hazardous work had been banned, but the endangered personnel were rescued by employing these measures only.

Salutations! Chapeux!
- Deepak Bhatia, Gandhi Nagar.

Conservation Workshop on Endangered Marine Megafauna

By TREE Foundation

TREE Foundation, a non-governmental organisation, working for the protection of sea turtles and other endangered marine species, organised a workshop on "Strengthening Community in Conserving and Releasing Entangled Marine Megafauna (Sea Turtles, Dolphins, Whales and Whale Shark) along Chengalpattu Coast," on Feb.16 at Meenakshi Holiday Resort ECR.

The AD & Inspectors of the Fisheries Department, Forest Range Officer, Chengalpattu, the Coast Guard, Marine Police personnel, and Inspector of Police, Cheyyur, along with the volunteers from the local fishing communities and youth participated in the workshop.

The TREE Foundation conducted the workshop, as a large number of dead turtles have been reported due to entanglement in fishing gears and ghost nets-related injuries. The workshop aimed to enhance the knowledge and skills of the local youth fishing community in identifying, recording, measuring, conserving and releasing marine megafauna, including dolphins, whales, sharks, rays, and turtles from fishing gear and ghost nets.

The workshop also provided the fishermen and participants with an excellent opportunity to interact, exchange and share ideas and thus strengthen the network with other enforcement agencies that are charged with the protection of the marine environment and endangered marine life.

The workshop was facilitated by Dr. Supraja Dharini, the founder and chairperson of TREE Foundation, who has been actively involved in the community-based sea turtle conservation programme for the past 21 years. Dr. Dharini shared her expertise and experience on the biology, ecology, threats, and conservation of marine megafauna, especially sea turtles.

The senior Sea Turtle Protection Force members also demonstrated the techniques and protocols for recording, handling, measuring, and releasing endangered marine animals safely and humanely back to sea. Although some of the fishermen have already been identifying and releasing several sea turtles, dolphins, and sharks that were entangled in fishing nets and ghost nets at sea, it is important to expand the program to motivate and bring the majority of fishermen under its fold.

During the workshop the fishermen participants also learned how to record data: the GPS location, the nautical miles, what net or ghost net the species was observed entangled in and video record the marine megafauna incidents to the respective STPF who share the same to the TREE Foundation office. The data will then be shared with the relevant authorities.

The workshop also included practical demonstration sessions, where the participants were taken to Muttukadu Estuary to practise the process and record the marine megafauna sightings and release of entangled marine animals using models of marine animals.

Super-senior meet at Thiruvannmiyur

By P. V. Ranganathan

It has been 18 years since the Super Senior Citizens (SSC) first started meeting near the gate (of Prime Terrace, Thiruvannmiyur). Over the years, our meeting spot has changed and evolved, but our sense of community and camaraderie has remained strong. Despite the challenges of age and the loss of some of our beloved members, we continue to meet regularly, cherishing the time we have together.

One particular act of kindness from Shri Padmanabhan stands out in my mind. When our usual meeting spot was converted into a visitor's car park, he generously offered part of his closed car park near the gate for us to continue our gatherings. His selflessness and thoughtfulness truly embodies the spirit of our group.

As a community, we also take part in various events and activities. It fills us with pride to see one of our own hoist the National Flag during Independence Day and to participate in cultural and sports events. The respect and regard shown to us by the younger members of the community is heartwarming and makes us feel valued.

Today, we had a change of scenery and gathered on the terrace, enjoying refreshments sponsored by one of our super senior citizens. It was a delightful change of place and a reminder of the warmth and generosity that defines our group.

As we continue to navigate the challenges that come with ageing, it is comforting to know that we have each other for support and companionship. Our gatherings may have evolved over the years, but the bond we share as Super Senior Citizens remains unwavering.

We are grateful for the love and support we receive from the community, and we look forward to many more years of friendship and camaraderie. Thank you for being a part of our journey.

Kannadigara Koota

On Feb.18, an exciting drawing competition, aimed to encourage students to express their artistic talents, was organised by Kannadigara Koota (Besant Nagar) at Youth Hostel, Adyar.

"It was a visual treat, with overwhelming participation and record entries, from a wide array of schools. Students came up with a tangible display, crafted with pencils, sketches and crayons, producing some brilliant artwork using a variety of techniques," said a statement from the group.

Securing maximum points, The Hindu Senior Secondary School, Adyar, bagged the K.K.Hebbar Rolling Shield. Kannadigas wanting to know more about the association can call 99620 47347.

7-year-old Chess champion

Seven-year-old, Takkshanth Anand (Elo Rating 1026) won the '12th National Schools Chess Championship 2024' at Patna in the Under-7 open category scoring 8/9. He finished a half point ahead of the field.

Takkshanth made a fantastic comeback after losing his 4th round game to 2nd seeded Tejas Tiwari (ELO 1149) and scored 5/5 in the last 5 games. His penultimate round was with top-seeded Shivay Singh (ELO 1219) where he showcased exemplary tactics. In the final must-win game, he beat Aaradhyo Guin to clinch the title and was selected for Asian Schools in Thailand.

Takkshanth is a student of KQ Chess Academy and has been trained by Fide Master M.Vinothkumar. He can be contacted at 94444 75095. KQ Chess Academy has branches at Kotturpuram, Mylapore, Kottivakkam, Velachery and Pallikaranai. Online classes are also taken.
